1. Fourteen aircraft, knocked down, arrived in Kvechi [sic] on 14 Oct 53. They are to be assembled at Kvechi. This work will be done in the shops near the Kirov Airfield, at Kvechi (southeast of Tbilisi.) Near this airfield there are seven hangers capable of taking about fifty planes of average size. There are also two barracks for technicians, of whom there are now about five hundred on the field.
2. The planes above mentioned are jets made at the Suvorosk airplane factories.

EDITORS NOTE: Kvechi, mentioned in Para 1 above, could not be located. It is possible that source has this confused with Kveshi, which is northwest of Tbilisi.
